

Lent—The Journey Begins!

Lent begins with an invitation from God:

*“Come back to me, with all your heart” (see Joel 2:12).
Our Lenten journey is our response to God’s invitation.*

The Word “Lent”—Interestingly, the word “lent” comes from Old English through Middle English to modern English. Looking at its origin, “lent” is a shortening of the word “lengthen,” used to describe the increasing amount of daylight each day: the harbinger of spring and new life, of sap running in trees, buds opening, green grass, daffodils, and tulips popping up. Spring for many is a time of cleaning, and Lent is a time for spiritual spring cleaning. We clean out the clutter that has accumulated in our lives to make more room for God and one another.

Liturgical Math: Counting Forty Days—Mathematically speaking, there are 46 days between Ash Wednesday and Easter Sunday. So how did we get forty? It was developed not by means of math but by theology. Every Sunday is Easter, even during the Lenten season, for every Sunday is a memorial of the passion, death, and resurrection of Jesus. When we subtract the six Sundays of Lent from the total we end up with forty.

Lent: A Brief History Lesson—Church historians tell us that by the end of the 4th C. , a forty day period of fasting was observed in parts of the church in commemoration of Christ’s forty days in the desert. Later this developed into a penitential season in preparation for Easter. Lent had two emphases: it was the time of formation and preparation for the catechumens (those seeking entrance into the church) and it was a time of reconciliation for those members of the church whose sins had separated them from God and the church. The shape and understanding of Lent changed with time. The public reconciliation of penitents died out, as did the catechumenate. Lent had shifted from a season of baptismal renewal to a liturgical season of fasting.

Ashes and Ash Wednesday—The origin and custom of using ashes is discovered in part in the Old Testament. They accompanied prayer in the case of Abraham when he said to God: “Let me take it upon myself to speak to my Lord, I who am but dust and ashes.” The prophet Jeremiah uses ashes when he calls for repentance: “O daughter of my people, gird on sackcloth, roll in ashes” (Jer. 6:26). The prophet Daniel pleaded for God to rescue Israel with sackcloth and ashes as a sign of Israel’s repentance: “I turned to the Lord God, pleading in earnest prayer, with fasting, sackcloth and ashes” (Dan. 9:3). In the New Testament, Jesus refers to the use of sackcloth and ashes as signs of repentance: (see Mt. 11:21; Lk. 10:13). In the early church, when the season of Lent was a time period for reconciliation of public sinners, the penitents would come to church at the start of Lent wearing a garment suggesting a sackcloth, an Old Testament symbol for seeking repentance. They were sprinkled with ashes and ritually dismissed from the assembly to do their penance for forty days, returning to church on Holy Thursday. With time, the dismissing of penitents disappeared, but the ashes remained as a reminder and call to penance of all the faithful. The act of imposing ashes symbolizes human mortality and fragility and the need to be redeemed by the mercy of God.
